

Youth Information Worker Competence Framework

european youth information and counselling agency

eurodesk

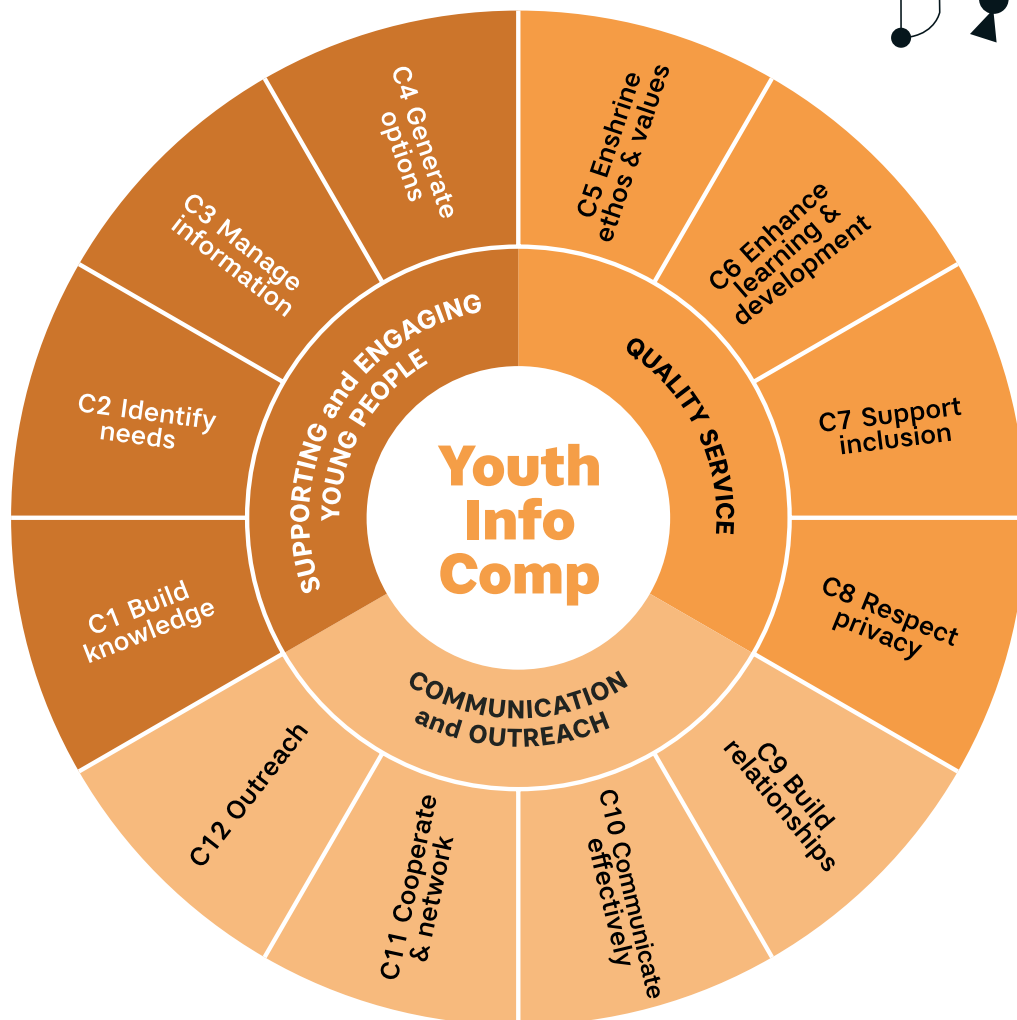

i Youth Information professionals deliver youth information services in a variety of settings in order to support young people's autonomy and wellbeing. They ensure that information services are accessible, resourced and welcoming, and run online and/or face-to-face outreach activities aimed at both individuals and groups.

Youth information workers help young people make their own informed decisions and become autonomous and fulfilled citizens!

12 competences grouped in 3 key areas

Each competence has a specific title and description which explains the value and application of this competence to youth information work. There is no hierarchy within the framework; all competences described are of equal importance.

Youth information workers can use YouthInfoComp to:

Understand and explain their role to young people and stakeholders.

Identify areas for skills and operational improvement and set professional development objectives.

Organisations providing youth information services can use YouthInfoComp to:

- Promote understanding, visibility and recognition of the youth information workers profile and services at European, national, regional or local level.
- Enhance the role of youth information services in design and development of youth services and policies at local, regional, national level and European level.
- Design vacancies, recruitment criteria and HR development plans in the Youth Information Work sector.
- Identify skills development needs and education and training opportunities for Youth Information Workers.